Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007090514A1] For the formation of groups (26, 28) comprising flat, vertical objects, in particular diapers (10), they are fed to a compartment conveyor (13). In the region of preferably two collecting stations (25, 27), groups (26, 28) of the diapers (10) are moved selectively out of the compartment conveyor (13) by push-out elements (29, 30). The groups (26, 28) which are produced in this way are pushed away for further processing.
