Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1983116A1] The device has a housing (5) having an overflow opening in which a button is fixed on a receiving part (8) mounted movably in the housing. A fitting aid along with the button is introduced into the opening in the housing and positioned in a recessed manner as well as fixed to the receiving part. The button for actuating an outlet valve of a bathtub is axially displaceable in the opening. The button is positioned on the fitting aid in a predetermined position. The receiving part has a set of teeth, which enables the button to be fixed at different depth positions in the opening. An independent claim is also included for a method of fitting a button of a device for actuating an element of an item of sanitary ware.
