Abstract (en)
[origin: DE102006003782A1] Method for treatment or prevention of autoimmune diseases by extracorporeal adsorption of autoantibodies (AAb) from the blood or plasma, using autoantigens (AAG). Independent claims are included for the following: (1) method for preparing an adsorbant for the new process; (2) method for identifying and characterizing at least one AAG; and (3) device and kit containing a carrier with AAG attached and the materials needed for performing immunoadsorption.
