Abstract (en)
[origin: GB2435415A] A bag 1 comprises an enclosure 3 for carrying items, a shoulder strap 5 having both ends connected to the enclosure and a harness 7, an upper end of which is removably attachable to the shoulder strap, the harness in use receiving and supporting an infant such that its torso is substantially upright. The harness may be at least one web and may be connected to the shoulder strap by ring connectors 33. When separated from the shoulder strap, the harness may serve as a closure flap for the enclosure. I use, the device functions primarily as a carrying bag but may also serve as an infant carrier.
