Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007093161A1] The invention relates to a system for generating lottery numbers, wherein a credit card company (1) or a mobile telephone company (20) orders a service provider (8) to open a customer account (9) for a client (9) in a lottery company (7). Said lottery company (7) registers the customer (3) in an arithmetic and memory unit (18) as a subscriber and informs the customer (3) of said registration. The credit card company (1) or the mobile telephone company (20) holds a bonus point account (12) for the client (3) in the arithmetic and memory unit (19) and when a certain number of bonus points are reached, informs the arithmetic and memory unit (21) of the service provider (8) which sends activation information to the arithmetic and memory unit of the lottery company (7) which initiates the lottery games to be played for the client according to the number of bonus points. The arithmetic and memory unit (19) of the credit card company (1) or the mobile telephone company, the arithmetic and memory unit (21) of the service provider (8) and the arithmetic and memory unit (18) of the lottery company (7) are connected together for automatically exchanging information.
