Abstract (en)

[origin: DE202007006336U1] The sealing housing (1) has a housing part (2) with a longitudinal slot for arranging at least one movable sealing profile (3) of the seal. Lateral sealing profilers extending in the longitudinal direction are arranged on one or more outer sides of the housing part. These are suitable and designed for sealing an air gap between the outer sides of the housing part after fitting the seal in the groove : Independent claims are also included for the following: (A) a seal (B) and an arrangement of a door panel with a groove and a seal.
