Abstract (en)

The furniture has a support (16), seat plate (1) and backrest (2) arranged at a support arm (3) opposite to the support. The seat plate is supported at a longitudinally extending flexible spring (4) that is connected with the support arm. The flexible spring is arranged such that the flexible spring is elastically moved during loading the seat plate transversal to the longitudinal extension. The flexible spring is fixed at the support arm in a torque-proof manner, where flexible spring includes a free end (5), in whose area the seat plate is pushed away from the flexible spring.
