Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1995395A2] The capping (1) which covers the top of the wall, is made from flexurally-resilient material (5), cut to length. It includes spaced (9), resilient, omega -shaped clips (6). They are made of spring steel or plastic, especially fiber-reinforced plastic, and preferably include a scale. The clips are detachably- or permanently connected to the covering. Holes (7) are provided for nails, in the capping and/or clips. Reinforcement is provided by expansible fibers, of which at least some overlap, along the length of the capping. Independent claims are included for the following: (A) an automated method of manufacture; (B) and a transport container.
