Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1997750A1] The container (10) has a waste inserting opening (18) for insertion of waste in the container, where the opening is situated in a part of the container that is not buried in ground. An opening (19) distinct from the opening (18) is formed in a lateral wall (14) of the container, where the opening is situated in a part of the container buried in the ground. The opening (19) has dimension higher than 0.8 m, and is sized in a manner to permit passage of a human being. An independent claim is also included for a method for maintaining a waste collecting container.
