Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2898928A1] The tent (1) has a flexible cloth (11) with sheaths, where the tent is presented in a deployed position in which four rectangular lateral faces are arranged in a cylinder for guiding a regular polygon having even number of sides. Each sheath is adapted to house flexible stainless steel hoops, and extends on the perimeter of the respective face. Each hoop is placed in a working position in the sheaths, where the tent is presented in a flat position in which the sheaths are superposed. An independent claim is also included for an assembly comprising a tent.
