Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2001264A2] The stretcher hook has a sound channel (12), which runs along the stretcher hook. The stretcher hook split transverse to the sound channel into two sections. The former section (10), with which the stretcher hook is mounted onto the rear ear hearing device is made of plastic, where latter section (11) is made of metal. The two sections are added in such a manner that the sound channel runs continuously.
