Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007103563A2] Controlled delivery and instant release combination compositions of metformin or salts thereof and glimepiride and the process of making the same are disclosed. Metformin and glimepiride are granulated with a binder and further dispersed in a rate-controlling matrix that results in a controlled release formulation that increases patient compliance. In a further illustrative embodiment metformin and glimepiride are formulated in an instant release presentation using pharmaceutical excipients known in the art.
