Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007115735A1] A covering (3) of an item of furniture (1) for sitting or lying on, which covering is in the form of a knitted fabric and is oriented substantially parallel to the mounting direction in the state in which it is mounted but not stressed transverse to a mounting direction, can be elastically deformed at least in one region when stressed transverse to the mounting direction. As a result, said covering can be easily adapted to the body shape of a user.
