Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2899204A1] The bottle has a lower portion (3) with a cross section of constant profile and terminated by an upper portion (5). A gripping portion (4) has flat grip panels (41) arranged in a parallel manner with respect to a central axis (Z) at a distance from each other for gripping hands, where the panels have a height of 2 centimeter in a median zone. The panels have a serration (44) extending in a transversal plane of a body (9) and connected between the panels by a web panel (42), where the panel (42) extends in lengthening the portions of the body by a corner piece at peripheral ends of the panels.
