Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007110510A1] The invention concerns a method for reproducing digital content including the following steps: receiving (E222) an identifier (Id') of the digital content from a secure electronic entity; extracting (E226) a digital watermark of the digital content; controlling (E232) the reproduction of the content based on a comparison between the extracted watermark and the identifier. The invention concerns a reproducing device, an electronic entity and related systems.
