Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007118630A1] The invention relates to a wheel suspension for the axle of a vehicle comprising a wheel carrier (1) that is guided by at least one wheel guide member (2), the latter being attached on the wheel side to a hinge point on the wheel carrier and on the vehicle side to a hinge point on the vehicle body (7) or on a sub-frame (5) that can be connected to the vehicle body. Said wheel suspension is characterised in that the wheel-side hinge point and/or vehicle-side hinge point (7) of the wheel guide member are configured so that their position can be modified.
