Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2011915A1] A drying rack comprises at least one substantially flat frame (1) as well as slender bearing elements (2) extending between mutually opposite sides of the frame (1). The mutually opposite sides of the frame (1) each comprise a profiled section (2) which determines a chamber (9) which ends in a slot-shaped aperture (8). The bars (7) are introduced into the slot-shaped aperture (8) of each profiled section (2) in such a manner that securing elements (14) are provided in the chamber (9) of each profiled section (2) by means of which in each case one end (25) of the bearing elements (2) is fixed.
