Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2014201A1] Adapter system comprises identical adapter elements (5) detachably joined together. Preferred Features: Each adapter element has a locking catch (6) and a locking recess (7). The locking catch of one adapter element is arranged so that it locks in the recess of the other adapter element. A free space is created between an angled region (9) and a base region (8) of an adapter element.
