Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2914284A1] The package has a semi-rigid outer case (1), and a flexible inner bag (2) containing a liquid in a sealing manner, where the case is made of cardboard and the package is made of recyclable material. A liquid distribution system has a valve type distribution device to discharge the liquid or pulverulent material in an open position and to ensure sealing of the package in a closed position. The device includes a neck (4) passing through recesses formed in a tab (3) and a surface of the case. The tab is moved in translation and folds the neck in the closed position.
