Abstract (en)

[origin: DE202006007722U1] Refrigerator comprises an integrated freezer compartment having a door body (1) and a handle part (5) having protrusions orientated across a pivoting axle. The first protrusions each support a pin and the second protrusions have an opening into which fit one of the pins for forming the pivoting axle. Preferred Features: The protrusions are formed as wall surfaces. At least one of the wall surfaces is elastically guided in the direction of the pivoting axle.
