Abstract (en)

Hinge to articulate the mobile part (11) of a door or window (12), of the panel/flap type, with respect to a fixed frame (15), in which in the fixed frame (15) one or more housing seatings (16, 17) are provided. The hinge comprises a first hinging element (21, 121) of the male type, and a second hinging element (22, 122) of the female type, able to couple with the first hinging element (21, 121). The hinge also comprises a third element, which functions as a base element, having a first part able to be inserted in one of the housing seatings (16, 17), and a second part with which one of the hinging elements (21, 121 or 22, 122) is able to be coupled.
