Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2025853A2] The drive carriage has first and second drive devices and a coupling for coupling and/or decoupling the drive arrangement to and from a drive unit (124). At least one guide device is suitable for guidance along a linear guide and the coupling device can be changed between locked and released positions, in each of which it can be held by a further arrangement. Independent claims are also included for the following: (A) a door drive arrangement (B) and a door.
