Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2027941A1] The cleaning device has a device housing (10), and a chassis (12) including rolling bodies (14, 16). The rolling bodies are designed for clamping a device supporting surface (22). The rolling bodies protrude over a device bottom counter of the device housing. The rolling bodies are formed of wheels, which have a receiving region for the device housing, and sidecars (30) for forming the receiving region. The rolling bodies rotate around a steering rotatable axis. The wheels have a flange at a front side.
