Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007144043A1] A flip-top type of cigarette packet comprises an outer packet (13) and an inner packet which is displaceable in the longitudinal direction inside the outer packet (13). A flap (36) is attached on one side of the outer packet (13). Said flap is moved into an open position by displacing the inner packet (12) relative to the outer packet (13), namely by transferring an opening force by means of a push tongue arranged inside the packet (27).
