Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2030900A2] The carrier has two U-shaped side walls (10, 20), and a carrying structure (30) formed as a carrying wall to carry goods to be transported. A lower side (32) of the carrying structure is designed such that the lower side directly rests on a base of a commercial outer package during arrangement in the package. The side walls lie close to sides of the package to laterally support the carrier in the package during and after usage of the carrier. The carrying structure has two free edges (30a, 30b) and each of the side walls have free edges (20a-20c) for bracing to the package.
