Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2008003754A1] The invention relates to a mail item container (2, 64, 88) for transporting mail items (14), said container being open to the top and comprising lateral walls (4, 6) and a container bottom, and lifting means (36, 52, 74, 100) for displacing the mail items (14) in relation to the lateral walls (4, 6). In order to allow for postal items, for example letters, to be emptied from a mail item container (2, 64, 88) in an ergonomically favorable and efficient manner and without impairing its mechanical stability too much, the lifting means (36, 52, 74, 100) is adapted to pass through the container bottom.
