Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2008002221A1] The invention relates to a cab-over commercial vehicle with a forward tiltable cab, said cab comprising a driver's compartment and a hood. An engine is mounted to a frame located below an exterior floor of the driver's compartment and a radiator assembly for cooling at least said engine is mounted to the frame in front of the driver's compartment. The hood is arranged to enclose the radiator assembly and the cab has a tilt point located in front of the radiator assembly.
