Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2042633A1] The flat bed knitting machine has multiple needles (2), where each needle is assigned to stripping hooks (1). The stripping hooks include a stitch by a rear movement of the needle over a closed needle hook (21). The stitch is placed behind a needle guide (22) at a needle shaft (23) during a driving movement of the needle. The stripping hooks are arranged in a movably controlled manner. The stripping hooks are arranged in a hook bed (201). The hook bed is arranged above a needle bed, in which the needles are arranged.
