Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2042680A2] The bolt (1) has a Z-shaped long side piece (4) fastened to a fly screen frame using screws, where the bolt is straight in top view. A bar (5) runs perpendicular to the long side piece, and a short side piece (6) runs parallel to the long side piece. The bar and the short side piece are provided in attachment with a window frame, where the bolt is made of stainless steel. A longitudinal fillet indentation (8) is provided in an area, in which the screws are engaged, and a round hole is provided in the short side piece.
