Abstract (en)
In order to provide a printer and an issuing apparatus for effectively preventing occurrence of jam even when a user picks a leading end of a printed sheet discharged from a discharge port, a leading end of a guide plate (15b) disposed below the discharge port for discharging the printed sheet is formed to be shorter than that of a guide plate (15a) disposed thereabove such that a space can be formed in which the sheet is allowed to deflect downward when advancement of the leading end of the printed sheet discharged from the discharge port (15) is interfered with.
