Abstract (en)

A container comprises a paperboard tube (1) having an internal aperture for storing items and at least one opening (2) by means of which the internal aperture is externally accessible. A plastic tubular collar (6) is secured to the opening (2) of the tube (1), the collar (6) having an external flange (7) which locates against the opening (2). The collar (6) further has a threaded cap receiving surface (6b) which, in use, is engageable by a complementary threaded surface of a cap (8) so as to secure the cap to the collar and hence close the container.
