Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2051162A2] The method involves ordering a print product by using an ordering system, where the print product is defined based on a manuscript provided in a portable document format. The print product is printed corresponding to the manuscript. An identification character of a compiler of the manuscript is read from the manuscript by the ordering system, where the identification character is provided in a combination of American standard code for Information Interchange-(ASCII) characters. An instruction for manufacturing the print product is assigned to the manuscript. An independent claim is also included for an ordering system for a print product.
