Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2008012616A2] A battery comprising a plurality of prismatic battery cells, wherein prismatic battery cells which are immediately adjacent to each other are connected by at least one inter-cell connector which extends across an inter-cell aperture, said adjacent prismatic battery cells being communicable through said inter-cell aperture; characterised in that there is a continuity in conductivity and/or a continuity of conductance across said inter-cell aperture.
