Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2053012A2] The platform has a working platform (2) provided for persons, and a u-shaped pendulum arm (3) comprising a retainer in an area of a closed end (31) for fastening the arm to a console of a vehicle crane. The arm has an extension (5) in an area of an opened end (32), and the platform (2) has an extension that is attached to the extension of the arm against a force in a pivotable manner. A drive unit is attached to one of the extensions and provided for resetting the platform (2) from a horizontal position to an optimal position during movement of a base (21) of the platform (2).
