[origin: EP2053165A1] The support (1) has a covering part (2) for engaging an upper part of a modular road separator, where the support is made of plastic material. A vertical insertion type coupling unit (3) is placed at a lower surface of the covering part to engage on a coupling head of a pickup device i.e. anchor, placed in a recess of the modular separator. The coupling of the coupling unit on the head is removable for disassembling the support. An accessory is placed towards an upper surface of the covering part.
