Abstract (en)
[origin: DE202006013231U1] The housing has a shell (1) and a locking cover on the opening side of the shell with that an opening is formed for a connection cable of the electrical assembly in a wall of the shell. A first case of the cover is provided with an edge-open first slot which is positioned in the opening (7). An independent claim is also included for the household appliance.
