Abstract (en)

The system of partitions comprises a set of guides in the ceiling of the architectural space on which multiple partitions which can be moved manually to any point within the architectural space in order to subdivide the same into the desired form are suspended, movable extensions being housed within each of the partitions at the lateral edges and the bottom edge of the partitions, with corresponding operating devices to bring about alternately their location pressing against one or more lateral walls of the enclosure and the floor thereof, or a position housed within the movable partitions themselves.
