Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2008031134A1] A digital photo frame is provided. The frame comprises: a photo-sized display screen; an internal memory for storing photo image files; an interface for communication with an external memory device; an integral inkjet printer for printing photos displayed on the display screen; and a processor communicating with the display screen, the internal memory, the interface and the printer. In a preferred form the screen is rotatable into landscape and portrait configurations.
