Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2070832A1] The container (1) has a lower section (2) with side walls (5) that exhibit a course tapering forward from a rear wall upto a support surface of the lower section. A front limiting edge (17) is attached to the support surface. A roof-sided wall (9) of an upper section (7) is designed such that it forms a rear supporting surface for the lower section in an opened position of the container. A front wall (10) partially forms a bottom-sided support surface, which extends the surface of the lower section. The container is made of transparent plastic.
