Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2071536A2] The method involves numbering a starting point number and the information of edge chairs (11,12,13,14) or edge tables delivered, in ascending or descending by a remote control (100). The received seat number is indicated by each chair or table and the next chair or table is referred by an increase or a decrease. The received seat number is indicated from the last chair or table. An independent claim is included for a system for executing the method.
