Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2072730A2] The fitting arrangement (1) has a fixing section (2) which is formed for fixing the fitting arrangement at a lifting sliding element. A contact section (13) is formed temporarily during the lowering and the raising of the lifting sliding element on a guiding rail or overlies a section located bottom side or frame lower side. A spring element (8) is formed to counteract the weight of the lifting sliding element temporarily during the lowering and the raising of the lifting sliding element.
