Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1909077A1] A liquid dispensing device for repeatedly dispensing a predetermined amount of liquid which is supplied to the device under pressure is claimed. The amount of liquid dispensed by the device is determined by a timer. The volume which is to be dispensed by the device can conveniently be adjusted by changing the setting of said timer. In a preferred embodiment the invention is suitable for dispensing a predetermined volume of liquid, preferably a solution of agricultural chemicals, for spot application of said chemicals.
