Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2075073A1] The color change system has an element (1), in which supply channel (3) opens out for two colors. A pump (8) is provided in another element (2) between a device for dispensing colors and a channel (6) is provided for conveying color into a line (10). An opening (6a) of the channel is connected with the pump in fluidic manner. An independent claim is included for a method for changing a color, particularly between two varnishing steps in a color change system.
