Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2907542A1] The method involves selecting a driving style by a driver, where the driving style is chosen from a preset list by a constructor according to image of a vehicle e.g. sports vehicle. Parametrable functions of the vehicle are pre-adjusted according to a chosen driving style and the route adapted to the driving style is selected. Information related to the chosen driving style is displayed through a display and/or vocal interface to communicate messages.
