Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2084985A1] The system has a lipstick (R) mounted on a displacement mechanism that is rotatably actuated by a ring between a retracted position and a utilization position. A reservoir contains a sticky liquid product (P) to be applied, and a product dispensing mechanism is rotatably actuated for pressurizing the product in the reservoir. The lipstick has a channel (3) communicating with the reservoir and an outer surface of the lipstick so as to apply the product via the lipstick.
