Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2090342A1] The height of side panels (201) diminishes as the distance increases from a rear panel (101). A link between the rear panel and the side panels is produced by each of two or more grooved/spring links (104/205,204/105). The side panels diminish in height like steps as distance from the rear panel increases. Two rear panels have associated side panels.
