Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2008052242A1] A method (700), apparatus (101) and gaming system (100) for playing a game comprising a base game and a feature game, are disclosed. The base game a spinning reel game comprising a plurality of spinning reels (501 to 505). The gaming system (100) comprises a processor (205) for controlling the play of the base game and the feature game. The gaming system (100) also comprises at least one display device (214) connected to the processor (205) for displaying one or more screens of the game. The gaming system (100) also comprises input means (202) connected to the processor (205) and the display device (214), for use by a player in controlling one or more aspects of the game, wherein the processor (205) controls the game such that each symbol in a reel (501 to 505) of the base game has a corresponding feature symbol (e.g., 806) corresponding to the feature game. During one or more reel spins of the base game the feature symbols (806) are also spun so as to affect the result of the base game depending on where the feature symbols stop with respect to the base symbols of the reels.
