Abstract (en)

The system i.e. automatic teller machine (10), has a coin depositing device for automatically opening a coin inserting slot to insert and feed coins to a separating-, sorting- and depositing device in a conveyor belt. A checking device checks and evaluates the coins, and the depositing device provides electronic supported credit items of the total deposited amount to a customer. A coin withdrawing device selects the individual coins and automatically opens a coin withdrawing slot (23) for withdrawing the coins. The withdrawing device provides the total deposited amount to the customer. An independent claim is also included for a computer supported data processing program stored in a data carrier for controlling and synchronizing a sequence of a coin depositing and withdrawing process.
