Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2099000A1] The box has a flange (10) for maintaining a reception block on a tubular handle (72). The flange includes opposite rear and front hooking borders (14, 16) separated by a longitudinal space receiving the handle. The border (14) has a slot opening towards exterior of the box to receive a proximal link (48) of a chain. Deformable elastic tabs are located on both sides of the slot. The tabs are deformable between an opened position to authorize engagement of the link inside the slot and a closed position to retain the link inside the slot.
