Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2099103A2] The crimping tool has crimping plungers and a through hole for inserting a cable end that is to be crimped. The inserting of the cable end is limited by an adjustable stop part (2) that is firmly connected with the crimping tool and is detachable in operation. A stop pin (3) has a stop body, which is elastically held in the stop pin to yield in stop direction.
